FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why is underage drinking a problem?

- Underage drinking is associated with the leading causes of death for teens and young adults, including motor vehicle crashes, unintentional injuries, homicide and suicide.
- According to local school surveys, nearly half of high school juniors report drinking alcohol in the past month.
- Underage drinking parties pose a high risk to young people because of the number of drinkers involved and the large quantities of alcohol consumed. These parties often result in alcohol poisoning, traffic crashes, property damage, sexual assault, and other crime and violence.

Isn't underage drinking already illegal?

- State law prohibits minors under age 21 from purchasing, possessing or consuming alcohol. It also prohibits adults from furnishing alcohol to minors in public.
- The Social Host Ordinance bridges the gap since many youth obtain alcohol through social sources such as older friends, siblings, parents and/or strangers. This law was put in place to prevent underage drinking parties and hold the hosts of such parties accountable.

What is a "social host"?

A social host is anyone who hosts or allows a party, gathering or event where minors are consuming alcohol beverages. A "party, gathering or event" means a group of persons who have assembled on private property or in a public place for a social occasion or a social activity.

Are there any exceptions?

The ordinance does not apply to parents supervising their own children (during private meals and/or religious ceremonies, for example).
